HumasUPNVJ - On Thursday 08-October-2020 lecturers at the Faculty of Computer Science UPN Jeteran Jakarta Rio Wirawan S.kom., MMSI and Ruth Mariana Bungawadu, S.kom., MMSI submitted a book entitled "Business strategy in the midst of an e-based pandemic tutor: online learning media" to the UPN Jeteran Jakarta library as a grant to increase the wealth of libraries in the library within the UPN Veteran Jakarta environment. This was welcomed by the Head of UPT Library, namely Mr. Saidun.

The book submitted to the library is the first book recently produced by Rio Wirawan S.kom., MMSI and Ruth Mariana Bungawadu, S.kom., MMSI. The book was deliberately donated to the library to assist students in exploring the concept of system design and modeling complete with its business concept.

This e-tutor-based business strategy book (Online Learning Media) explains the design of an e-tutor, which is a learning medium. The design of the e-tutor begins with research according to relevant case studies to obtain the needs of the users involved so that the e-tutor can be built optimally. In addition, this e-tutor is equipped with a mechanism as a business strategy in managing online learning where online learning is a learning solution to prevent the spread of the Covid 19 virus in the present.

This book is expected to help final project drafters or even software designers and developers as a reference in developing the concept of electronic learning in the concept of electronic tutorials as a means of distance learning. Distance learning during this Pandemic has become a solution that inevitably is done in one of the efforts to prevent virus transmission. In practice, electronic learning must be packaged flexibly and support distance learning where the teacher and those being taught do not meet each other.
