HumasUPNVJ - Defending the Country is an attitude of love for the motherland. It is no longer a ceasefire that is needed but a sense of belonging to Indonesia's homeland. And defending the country must be owned by every Indonesian citizen.

One of the implementations of defending the country owned by UPN Veteran Jakarta can be seen from the creation of a book made by the UPNVJ Faculty of Law. Tuesday, 13 October 2020.

Through the law faculty, defending the country is part of the university's vision, so the faculty has the obligation to explore these values and apply them in the teaching and learning process. In the context of this book, the vision of defending the country is derived from the perspective of legal studies. Then later it is revealed in the form of teaching materials in each subject in an integrative manner.

The UPNVJ public relations team had the opportunity to conduct an online interview with the Dean of the Faculty of Law, represented by Mrs. Iko as the secretary of the Faculty of Law, "What motivated us, all UPNVJ Faculty of Law lecturers in making this book, namely to ensure that the vision of defending the country's identity becomes internally motivated, has an obligation to reduce state defense while for external the value of state defense is for universities & facultiesâ€. he said

"Every program has obstacles, but industrially it has to be implemented. However, the most important thing for making this book on defending the country is to get support from the Chancellor of UPNVJ, Lecturer at the Faculty of Law and Cooperation with publishers. he continued
