HumasUPNVJ - Pharmacy Study Program Undergraduate Program (S1 Pharmacy) Faculty of Medicine National Development University "Veteran" Jakarta (UPNVJ) has succeeded in obtaining "Very Good" accreditation. This achievement was made possible thanks to the hard work of all parties.

"All parties contributed, starting from university leaders, faculties, LP3M, LPPM, task force teams, lecturers, educational staff and also younger students," said the Head of Pharmacy Study Program, Faculty of Medicine UPNVJ, apt. Annisa Farida Muti, S.Farm., M.Sc.

"This is the first (Pharmacy) accreditation, and all parties are very excited to help and provide support," he continued.

In general, this achievement, said Annisa, was beyond the expectations of all parties. Moreover, the study program was only established about four years ago.

Through this achievement, the UPNVJ Undergraduate Pharmacy Study Program (S1 Pharmacy) is considered to have been able to show itself as a study program that guarantees quality in accordance with the criteria set by the LAM-PTKes.

According to Annisa, this "Very Good" accreditation is the first step of the next struggle, namely opening the Pharmacist Professional Study Program. Accreditation "Very Good" in the Pharmacy Study Program Undergraduate Program (S1 Pharmacy) is one of the requirements to open the study program.

"Hopefully we can open the Pharmacist Profession Study Program. In the near future, hopefully we can open this study program, of which there are still relatively few in Indonesia," said Annisa.

In conclusion, Annisa hopes that the achievement of the "Excellent" accreditation of the Pharmacy Study Program for the Undergraduate Program (S1 Pharmacy) can be a blessing and benefit for UPNVJ institutions and academics. He also hopes that this accreditation can be a trigger for enthusiasm in actualizing and habituating a quality culture in a better direction.
