HumasUPNVJ - The Communication Studies Program at the National University of Development "Veteran" Jakarta (UPNVJ) has made it into the top 10 list of study programs most in demand in the 2023 Test-Based National Selection (SNBT). 6 with 3,728 fans.

This achievement shows that UPNVJ Communication Studies continues to develop from time to time and is becoming an increasingly popular study program.

"Extraordinarily very proud. Hopefully in the future the S1 Communication Science Study Program can be even better from all aspects," said the Head of Communication Science Study Program Dr. Fitria Ayuningtyas, M.Sc.

According to Fitria, the achievement of UPNVJ Communication Studies as one of the most popular study programs this year is a concrete form of the various maneuvers that have been carried out, such as participating in the 2022 Merdeka Campus Competition Program to receiving the 2022 Merdeka Campus Competition Program Grants.

In addition, the Bachelor of Communication Sciences Study Program also participates in international accreditation at the Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA) with nearly two years of preparation.

"All of this cannot be separated from the role of lecturers and students who have started to spread their wings to go international," said Fitria.

Meanwhile, UPNVJ is also included in the list of the top 20 state universities with the most applicants. UPNVJ is ranked 16th with 32,858 registrants.

Of this total, one of the registrants at UPNVJ was successfully accepted with the highest Computer-Based Writing Test (UTBK) score. The applicant came from the UPNVJ Bachelor of Medicine program with a score of 811.81.

For the average UTBK score, UPNVJ also made it into the top 20. UPNVJ is in 10th place with an average UTBK score of 622.52.

All of these proud achievements will not make UPNVJ complacent. All levels of the UPNVJ academic community will continue to work hard to improve their achievements to the next level, both at the national and international levels.

Congratulations to all prospective students who have been accepted into UPNVJ. For those who have not been accepted, there are still opportunities that can be taken through the independent selection process (SEMA).
