HumasUPNVJ - The National Development University "Veteran" Jakarta again held an inauguration ceremony and the oath of office for lecturers with additional assignments on Tuesday (11/7). Those appointed will serve within the UPNVJ for the 2023-2027 period.

Different from before, the inauguration ceremony and lecturer oath of office with additional assignments this time were only for the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences (FISIP). In total there were 9 FISIP lecturers with additional assignments who were appointed and took their oath of office.

"Be better, be superior so that we can be the best of the best," said UPNVJ Chancellor Dr. Anther Venus, MA. Comm before the lecturers with additional assignments.

"Always find opportunities, 9 standards of excellence so that they can become international standards, ladies and gentlemen as witnesses and agents of UPNVJ's progress," he continued.

Venus calls on lecturers with additional assignments to jointly strive to achieve international accreditation. According to him, the reputation and recognition of UPNVJ is important in achieving this goal.

One thing that can be done to achieve international standards, continued Venus, is to increase the publication of the Scopus journal.

"Make our campus a creative and innovative campus, and this aspect must be in the curriculum of every faculty," said Venus.

With regard to defending the country, Venus encourages lecturers and all academics to strengthen its implementation.

Still in efforts to achieve international accreditation, Venus calls on lecturers with additional assignments and all academics to increase international seminars and conferences. He also encourages the development of a creative environment in order to present academic culture within UPNVJ.

Venus also asked the lecturers to always monitor the Key Performance Indicators (IKU) to find out the targets for a certain period of time. Every decision made by lecturers with additional assignments is asked to always be based on existing rules.

Regarding student affairs, Venus encourages the preparation of basic data that is updated regularly, such as active students, students on leave, and also the average GPA.

"We are transforming in all fields. After this, do the work list as soon as possible so that our development will also be faster," said Venus.

"This is the duty and responsibility of all of us. Provide innovation, propose it to the leadership, and if it can be implemented, then we will implement it together," he concluded.
