Public RelationsUPNVJ - In an effort to understand the importance of the Curriculum Vitae (CV), the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences (FISIP) UPN "Veteran" Jakarta (UPNVJ) held an Education Class, on Monday (18/3/24).

This Education Class discusses effective tactics for developing a quality CV using simple and clear language to attract large companies by optimizing LinkedIn accounts with Irvanti Aulia, UPNVJ Communication Science Student.

"A good CV and LinkedIn are not only your business cards, but also the main key to getting attention from big companies which are the target of many individuals," said Irvanti in front of 40 students.

Education Class is an activity that accommodates the FISIP Student Family (KEMA) to provide students with an in-depth understanding of the importance of having a strong CV and strategies to increase their chances of getting positions in large companies which can be done offline.

In today's increasingly competitive world of work, it is imperative for students to prepare themselves well from an early age so they can compete in a tight job market. One of the crucial steps in entering the professional world is to prepare a Curriculum Vitae (CV) and optimize a good and attractive LinkedIn application.
